ARTIST'S VISIONS

My knowing "The Valküre" begins with a telephone call.

The caller is an impassioned personality who says he knows my work and feels my style perfectly suits the world of fantasy and reality that coexists in this opera.

The idea seduces me and I accept the challenge. Soon I receive a text and a version of the opera in DVD that allows me to learn more about the work.

I feel captivated by the plot and when I see the images the sensation is still greater. This version's production is so fascinating that I feel I can not better it.

It is pure art and any moment is worthy of representation.
